MEMORANDUM FOR: Executive Director-Comptroller

SUBJECT : Administrative Authorities--Travel and Transportation Expenses

At the time you approved the extension of authorities for travel and transportation of effects for retirees and dependents to a selected place of residence we had limited the application of this to employees in the CIA Retirement and Disability System. You informally queried whether or not this could be properly extended to other employees engaged in overseas service but who are not members of the CIA Retirement System. We have given this full consideration but there does not appear to be any practical system by which we could sort out and make applicable these authorities to other employees. I am afraid we would be opening a Pandora's box without devising any effective controls. We can always consider on an exception basis any deserving case and unless you have other views I propose to go this route.

I accept this for the moment but am not sure we will not want to review this matter at some later date
